Part 1 Analysing an Internship Job Ad (25%)

Internship Job Ad

Karya Bersama is looking for an Office Support Intern to help with office administration. Students from all study programmes may apply. Use this job ad for the exam tasks.

Position: Office Support Intern

Company: Karya Bersama

Responsibilities

- Assist with daily office tasks and meeting preparations.
- Write clear and polite email replies to staff.
- Organize documents, check simple records, and update meeting schedules. Requirements
- Currently in Semester 5 of any study programme.
- Able to use word processing and spreadsheets for simple tasks.
- Able to write simple professional emails in English.
- Careful when recording information and willing to ask for guidance.
- Able to work with a team and respond to tasks on time.

Application documents: CV and application letter.

1. Choose three requirements from the job ad. For each requirement, give evidence from your CV and explain how it matches the requirement.

Requirements and Evidence

Write the three requirements you have chosen. If your CV does not yet show evidence for a requirement, state that you still need to develop that skill.

Job requirement	Evidence from your CV	Justify the evidence from your CV
1. Currently in Semester 5 of any study programme.	Currently studying at Universitas Pancasila, Teknik Informatika (2024–Now).	This proves that I am currently a 5th-semester student in an accredited undergraduate program.

2. Able to use word processing and spreadsheets for simple tasks.	Experience working as a Product Designer & handling E-Commerce sales at CV. Agro Kates Mandiri.	Managing e-commerce platforms and product administration requires basic software literacy, including word processing and spreadsheets.
3. Able to write simple professional emails in English.	[Skill to Develop] I am still actively developing my professional business email writing skills in English.	Although my main background is in design and multimedia, I am eager to learn and practice formal workplace communication in English.

Skills to Develop

Skills you need to develop and why

I need to further develop formal business correspondence and cross-functional administrative coordination in English. Since my primary background is in graphic design and digital media, enhancing structured email templates and office documentation will help me support office administration tasks more effectively at Karya Bersama.

Specific steps you will take

1. Review professional email phrasing guidelines and templates provided in EOP coursework.
2. Practice drafting daily office emails and reports regularly.
3. Actively ask supervisors for feedback and guidance when handling new administrative tasks.

Part 2 Improving Your Career Documents (25%)

Use your CV and the job ad in Part 1. Rewrite your professional summary in English. Write 40-60 words to match the requirements in the job ad. Include your student status, relevant skills, examples from your experience, and your internship goal. Use accurate information.

I am a fifth-semester Informatics engineering student with hands-on experience in digital design and office administration tasks. Equipped with strong computer literacy and creative skills, I have managed product packaging and e-commerce operations. I am eager to secure the Office Support Intern position at Karya Bersama to apply my organizational skills and contribute efficiently to daily administrative workflows. (59 words)

Part 3 Replying to a Complaint (50%)

You are now working as an Office Support Team at Karya Bersama. You are asked to reply to an email from Nadia Putri, a client. Use your own name as the sender.

Subject: Problem with the Meeting Room Booking

Dear Office Support Team,

We received a booking confirmation for Meeting Room A for our meeting at 2:00 p.m. today. This morning, we were told that the room is unavailable. Eight people will attend, and we need a projector. Could you please arrange a suitable alternative and confirm the booking details?

Best regards,

Nadia Putri

CONFIRMED INFORMATION

- Meeting Room A is not available yet. We do not yet know why, or when the room will be ready.
- Your supervisor has approved Meeting Room B on the third floor for the meeting at 2:00 p.m. today. The room has space for 10 people and has a projector.
- You must email the written booking confirmation for Meeting Room B by 11:30 a.m. today.

- You must send an update on the room preparations at 12:00 noon today.

The following is a draft reply to Nadia's email, prepared with the help of AI. However, you should not send it before checking and correcting it. Identify two important issues that need to be fixed: incorrect information and impolite language. Write your corrections in the column provided below.

AI's Email Draft

Subject: Meeting Room Update

Dear Nadia,

Thank you for your email about the meeting room booking. We understand that you need a room for eight people at 2:00 p.m. today. Unfortunately, this problem happened because your team booked the room too late.

We can confirm that you may use Meeting Room B on the second floor. We will email the written booking confirmation at 1:00 p.m. today. There is no need for another update because everything has already been arranged. Please let us know if you need any further assistance.

Best regards,

Office Support Intern

Statement in the AI's draft	Why it needs improvement
1. "Unfortunately, this problem happened because your team booked the room too late."	Impolite language & incorrect info: Blaming the client ("booked the room too late") is unprofessional and breaks customer service etiquette. Also, the actual reason for the unavailability is still unknown.
2. "We will email the written booking confirmation at 1:00 p.m. today. There is no need for another update because everything has already been arranged."	Incorrect information & impolite tone: According to confirmed company rules, the written booking confirmation must be sent by 11:30 a.m., and an update on room preparations must be sent at 12:00 noon (not 1:00 p.m., and updates are required).

After correcting the AI-generated email above, write a better reply to Nadia based on your revisions. Be sure to use the CONFIRMED INFORMATION provided in Part 3.

Subject: Re: Problem with the Meeting Room Booking – Confirmation for Meeting Room B

Dear Nadia Putri,

Thank you for your email regarding the meeting room booking. We sincerely apologize for the inconvenience regarding Meeting Room A.

Please be informed that our supervisor has approved Meeting Room B on the third floor for your meeting at 2:00 p.m. today. This room comfortably accommodates up to 10 people and is fully equipped with a projector.

We will email you the official written booking confirmation by 11:30 a.m. today, and we will follow up with an update regarding the room preparations at 12:00 noon today.

Please let us know if you need any further assistance.

Best regards,
